The Court's staff will provide connection instructions to the parties by email prior to the hearing. In an attempt to avoid bandwidth issues, the Court requests that each plaintiff group (one for each case) and the defendant limit themselves to two connections per group. However, multiple attorneys may appear together through one connection. Counsel, parties, and the general public whom will not participate, but want to hear the proceedings may utilize the Court's telephonic conferencing system by dialing Toll Free: 888-204-5984 using Access Code: 7557338#. The Court requests that the parties submit a proposed joint Scheduling Order (or if they cannot agree, then two proposed Scheduling Orders), by 8/27/2020. Please file the proposed order(s) into ECF as well as email a Word version to jackson_chambers@cod.uscourts.gov. The Scheduling Order should address two scenarios: one if the Court determines to proceed with class action briefing, which should include a short section of no more than two of the pages per side indicating why a class action is or is not appropriate; the other on the basis that the two cases will proceed on normal course without class action status. Indicate that injunctive relief beyond what was already stipulated and approved by the Court in Abay et al v. City and County of Denver, 1:20-cv-01616-RBJ, would be ordered only for exceptional reasons. By Judge R. Brooke Jackson on 8/5/2020. Text Only Entry (rbjsec.) (Entered: 08/05/2020)

08/31/2021	144	ORDER granting Unopposed MOTION for Extension of Time to Extend Expert Disclosure Deadlines, Expert Discovery Cut-Off and Dispositive Motion Deadlines. However, the Court informs the parties that a dispositive motion filed on December 29, 2022, that is fully briefed, provides the Court little time to consider it before March 7, 2022 trial date and, as a practical matter, means that the motion will, at best, have to be granted or denied without an extensive analysis or order. If there is any genuinely disputed issue of material fact, the motion will be denied. Please do not waste your time and resources, or the Court's if there is any such issue. Case deadlines are extended as follows: Affirmative Experts due 10/8/2021; Discovery due by 12/8/2021; Dispositive Motions due by 12/29/2021; Designation of Rebuttal Experts due 11/8/2021. 09/15/2021	150	ORDER granting 135 / 136 MOTION for Reconsideration.
