Trump, Steven Dillingham, Bureau of the Census, Wilbur L. Ross Jr., United States Department of Commerce. There is no dispute that the President has "accustomed supervisory powers over his executive officers," Franklin, 505 U.S. at 800, and thus retains some discretion in the conduct of the decennial census and resulting apportionment calculation. Nevertheless, where the authority of the President (or other members of the Executive Branch) to act is derived from statutes passed by Congress, the President must act in accordance with, and within the boundaries of, the authority that Congress has granted. For the reasons discussed above, we conclude that the President did not do so here and that the Presidential Memorandum is an ultra vires violation of Congress's delegation of its constitutional responsibility to count the whole number of persons in each State and to apportion members of the House of Representatives among the States according to their respective numbers under 2 U.S.C. § 2a and 13 U.S.C. § 141. Accordingly, Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment with respect to their statutory ultra vires claims is GRANTED, Defendants (other than the President) are ENJOINED as set forth above, and the Presidential Memorandum is DECLARED unlawful. We need not and do not reach the merits of Plaintiffs' other claims and need not address their request, in the alternative, for a preliminary injunction. Finally, Defendants' motion to dismiss for lack of jurisdiction is DENIED and their motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim is DENIED as moot. The Clerk of Court is directed to terminate ECF Nos. 74 and 117 and to close this case. SO ORDERED. (Signed by United States Circuit Judge Richard C. Wesley, United States Circuit Judge Peter W.
