04/20/2001	312	COURTROOM MINUTES by Judge Edward W. Nottingham granting pla's motion for sanctions based on discovery violations [248−1] in 1:92−cv−00870, 1:96−cv−00343, The court finds that the facts demonstrate a pattern by the defendants to deliberately withhold a number of documents directly pertinent to this litigation. These documents clearly should have been disclosed as they could be construed, at the very least, to be implicit admissions. Pla's counsel was forced to obtain them independently from the process of discovery in this litigation. The disclosure obligations of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure in effect since 12/1/93 have been adopted by this court and were applicable to this case.; Under FRCP 37(c)(2), dfts shall not be permitted to use any of the docs attached as exhibits to pla's motion for sanctions and Exhibits Q − Z to pla's motion for partial sum jgm, as evidence at the trial, any further hearings or motion, and shall be prohibited from using any witness or information that were disclosed in the docs. The court may as well impose any of the sanctions permitted under subparagraphs A,C and C of subpart (b)(2) of Rule 37, and may include informing the jury of the failure to disclose. The court will impose an award for attorney's fees. The court will proceed under Rule 54(d), the pla's will be permitted to attempt to quantify the fees, and dfts will be permitted to respond. Pla have 14 days to file their motion. Dfts are also prohibited from establishing anything which is contrary to the finds of A.B.O. Copland, the architectural firm which produced the complaince report. Any defense expert witness must be consistent with A.B.O.'s findings, as well as any dft's lay witness. Denying motion to strike pla's motion to supplement pla's motion
